

LIBERAL ARTS AND SCIENCES: HUMANITIES AND SOCIAL SCIENCES: HONORS ADVISEMENT SEQUENCE

The Honors Advisement Sequence challenges students with an enriched liberal arts education through correlated courses and an upper level interdisciplinary seminar. The Sequence is designed for students who, upon completing the program, intend to continue work toward a Bachelor's Degree.

The Sequence features small classes, including a freshman seminar which familiarizes students with campus life and provides a forum for questions and concerns. Each semester's course offerings emphasize a central theme. The first semester focuses on global intellectual and cultural tradition; the second and third semesters focus on recent American political, literary and historical development; and the final semester emphasizes the complexities and richness of the contemporary world.

Individual academic advisement and intensive counseling prepare students for transfer to competitive four-year institutions. In the past, DCC Honors students have transferred to Colgate, Cornell, New York University, Vassar and Williams as well as the State University's more selective four year campuses.

Students are selected for the Honors Sequence on the basis of high school achievement and an individual interview. Qualified LAH students may enter the Honors Sequence after their first or second semester at DCC and after an individual interview with the Honors Coordinator. Capable students unable to commit themselves to the entire Honors Sequence may enroll in selected Honors courses with the written permission of the Honors course's instructor or the Coordinator of the Honors Sequence.

The Associate in Arts degree in Liberal Arts and Sciences: Humanities and Social Sciences is awarded upon completion of the requirements of the Honors Advisement Track.

A minimum of 24 credits of Honors courses, the completion of LSS 201, and a GPA of 3.2 or higher are required for a student to receive certification for the completion of the Honors Sequence.
